Warnings

⚠ Dogs should always be supervised while wearing Mutt Muffs®. Please be extra careful outdoors, or in any situation where the inability to hear all sounds might present a safety risk.

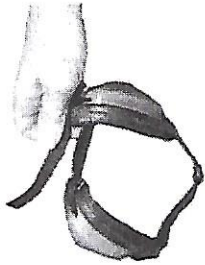

⇒ It is cautioned against using Mutt Muffs on young puppies with erect ears for prolonged periods. Give the growing, forming cartilage a chance to mature to its correct form. Mature dogs should have no problems

Don't make your dog model his Mutt Muffs® for your own amusement. That's just rude. Not only that, but most dogs, given their extreme intelligence, quickly understand that in a loud environment, Mutt Muffs make the bad noise go away. So make sure there's a purpose to donning the headgear. He'll quickly learn to associate the Mutt Muffs® with an airplane ride.... or tooling about town on a Harley

How to Adjust for a proper fit

Step 1 Adjust the top straps

Both top straps are fully adjustable and extra length has been provided to accommodate even the biggest of doggy noggins.

If necessary, once you have the correct adjustment, trim off any excess strap with scissors.

Step 2 Apply the Mutt Muffs to the dog
Luckily, there is no front or back, left or right, so Mutt Muffs can go on any way.

You should press your dog's ear flaps downward, covering the ear canal opening.

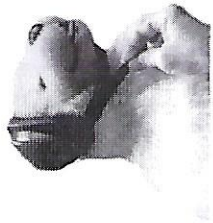

Fortunately, the dog's own ear flap, provides the first barrier against the offensive noise, better even than you placing your hands over your own ears.

Step 3 Adjust the chin strap

Feed the chin strap through the D-ring until the Mutt Muffs® are secure. Then fasten the velcro back onto itself.

It's that simple.

Step 4 Go enjoy something loud

Return and Exchange Policy

If you need to have your Mutt Muffs exchanged or refunded, please contact the retailer that sold them for the details of their return policy
